

LANGUAGE HOMESTAY - LIVE WITH YOUR TEACHER

All levels. All ages.
Many locations in the UK.

Language Homestay is a new and highly successful approach to language training in the UK. Clients actually live with their private teacher. There are structured lessons - 15, 20 or 25 hours per week. However, when the class is finished clients remain immersed in an English environment - visiting museums, eating out, going shopping and going to the theatre with their own personal teacher. The teachers have excellent qualifications - both in teaching and international business affairs. The standard of accommodation and food is excellent.

This program is ideal for:

- All levels of English - both General, Business and Professional
- People with specific professional language needs e.g. Banking, Senior Management, Pharmaceuticals, Human Resources, Law, Finance and Accounting, Advertising and Media and Information Technology
- People who lack confidence in English and need a nurturing environment
- People who are discouraged at the thought of going back to school

Participants receive a detailed profile of their teacher including work history and teaching experience, description of the house, location and the client's room and facilities in the area.

Brochures, price lists, starting dates and enrolment details are available from The Language House
